Galloway Township, NJ - The Stockton Center on Successful Aging (SCOSA) is sponsoring a free, four-session workshop to equip older adults with the strategies to get hired in the right position in today's job market.

"Find, Get and Keep the Job You Want: A New Environment Calls for New Strategies" will take place at the Stockton University Campus Center in Meeting Room 2 on four consecutive Mondays, Aug. 3, 10, 17 and 24, from 10 a.m. to noon. Michael Kuhlman with the National Council on Aging will facilitate the workshops.

Four weekly sessions will take participants through the SELFIE (Self-Empowering Learning for Innovative Enlightenment) model created by Michael Kuhlman. Participants will identify obstacles, discover their competitive edge in a changing work environment, learn what employers need in their employees, develop strategies for resume writing and interviews, and practice their presentation skills with the group.

Seating is limited. Register online or call 609-626-3591. Visit the SCOSA website at www.stockton.edu/scosa for more information, updates and cancellation procedures.
